

oeb
Shaping the future of learning

incorporating learning technologies

| germany

The 24th global, cross-sector conference and exhibition on technology supported learning and training

Book of Abstracts

December 5 – 7, 2018

www.oeb.global

Published by OEB Learning Technologies Europe GmbH, part of the CloserStill Group

CloserStill

OEB Learning Technologies Europe GmbH
Leibnizstrasse 32
10625 Berlin
Germany

Tel.: +49 (0)30 700 148 53
Fax: +49 (0) 30 324 98 33

Copyright © OEB Learning Technologies Europe GmbH 2018

The Publishers reserve all rights, including translation into other languages. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without the prior written permission of publisher.

The information contained in this book has been provided by the authors concerned, and the publishers are not responsible for the accuracy of any facts or figures.

Design & Layout: Thorsten Groeger, Studio Yukiko

ISBN 978-3-941055-49-0

Table of Contents

A Method to Develop Lifelong Learning Competences during Vocational Studies Elisabeth Agerbaek, Lillebaelt Academy, University of Applied Science, Denmark; Ellen Houmøller, Lillebaelt Academu, University of Applied Science, Denmark	1
From Web Colleges and Online Courses to Robot Recording Classrooms and Learning Analytics Richard Aldridge, NHL Stenden University of Applied Sciences, The Netherlands	3
Technological Development to Aid Marginalised Communities Peter Balleis S.J., Jesuit Worldwide Learning, Switzerland	4
Learn to Teach Best! Theo Bastiaens, FernUniversität in Hagen (Germany) and Open University (The Netherlands), Germany	5
Grasple: Making Knowledge Openly Accessible Pim Bellinga, Grasple, The Netherlands	7
Transforming the Online Learning Space through Advanced Development Workshops Daniel Belton, University of Huddersfield, UK	8
Are your Learners Ready for Ownership? Anneke Boink-Meijer, Thomas Kramer & Frank van den Ende, Summa College, The Netherlands	9
Keeping an Eye on Pedagogical Goals - When to Pull the Digital Reins Kjetil Brathetland, Hordaland County Administration, Norway; Jeannette Schmid, Goethe-University Frankfurt am Main, Germany	9
Using WhatsApp to Draw Doctors into our VLE to Engage with a Professional Development Programme David Bernard Callaghan, Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine, UK	10
Artificial Inventiveness (AI) – How to Spread Creativity Leonid Chechurin, Vasiliy Kaliteevsky, Arnob Khan, Inna Seledtcova & Iuliia Shnai, Lappeenranta University of Technology, Finland	12
Addressing the Challenge of Culture Change in Distance Higher Education through Training and Development Interventions Christopher Christodoulides, Antri Avraamidou & Stella Lambis, Open University of Cyprus, Cyprus	13
Involve Me and I Learn – How to Develop Engaging Resources with Europeana Digital Culture Isabel Crespo, Europeana Foundation, The Netherlands	15

Delivering a Mobile Experience - What Do Learners Really Want? Davina Beegoo-Price & Louise Olney, The Open University, UK; Zac Woolfitt, Inholland University of Applied Sciences, The Netherlands	17
Boosting the Use of Online Training by Small Companies in Europe Kristina Dervojeda, PriceWaterhouseCoopers, The Netherlands; André Richier, European Commission, Belgium	18
Why the World Needs Open Source and Open Education to Survive Martin Dougiamas, Moodle, Australia	21
From the Early Adopter to the Cautious Experimenter: Bringing Academic Faculty on Board with Digital Learning Lisa Eichel & Dana Doyle, Massachusetts Institute of Technology Open Learning/MITx, USA	21
Collaboration in Development: Linking and Sharing Resources with NGO's, IGO's and Humanitarian Organisations Miguel Expósito-Verdejo, European Commission, Directorate-General for International Cooperation and Development (DG DEVCO), Belgium	23
How Flipped Learning Can Improve Deep Learning and Transfer Camilla Finsterbach Kaup & Mary Anne Kristiansen, University College of Northern Denmark, Denmark	24
How to Use IoT for Smart Learning Environments Sirkka Freigang, Bosch Software Innovations GmbH, Germany	26
LaSiDig: an Innovative Learning App to Ensure Load Security Erik Funke & Claudia Ball, DEKRA Akademie, Germany	29
Shaping and Promoting Active Learning – The Potential of Digital Media Isabel García-Wülfing, Bundesinstitut für Berufsbildung, Germany; Martin Lemos, Audiovisual Mediacenter Medical Faculty RWTH Aachen University, Germany; Marko Jovanović, Department of Medical Informatics, RWTH Aachen University, Germany; Lukas Neumann, Physiotherapy School, RWTH Aachen University Hospital, Germany; Gabriele Lehmann, Zentralstelle für Berufsbildung im Handel, Berlin, Germany	31
Learning Design for Teachers in a Hurry Christian Glahn, HTW Chur, Switzerland; Marion R. Gruber, DLF, University of Zurich, Switzerland	35
DIY: Useful eLearnings Made by Employees for Employees Denise Gramss, Hochschule für Angewandtes Management, Germany	37
Finding your Voice, Designing a Learning Narrative Marlies Gration, University of Derby (University of Derby Online), UK	38
The Digital Transformation of Education and Learning in Turkey Tarkan Gürbüz, Middle East Technical University (METU), Turkey	40

The 4th Industrial Revolution Has Profound Implications for the Future Direction of Education and Society: Whose Responsibility Is It? Peter Hamilton, EdTech Ventures, Ireland; Michelle Selinger, EdTech Ventures, UK	41
Peer-to-peer Learning in Management Education: The Case of D-MTEC Jost Hamschmidt, ETH Zurich - Department of Management, Technology and Economics, Switzerland	44
Loops Education Kristoffer Hedram & Laura Linnaeus, Lin Education, Sweden	46
Emancipating our Virtual Teachers: Using Group and Peer-to-peer Coaching to Achieve High-quality Interaction Pål Simen Hem, Nettskolen Vestfold, Norway	50
Video Doesn't Have to Be Difficult - a Guide to How Panopto Can Make the Process of Recording, Sharing and Managing Video Easier Peter Ingle, Panopto, UK	51
21 st Century Engagement: You in the Driver's Seat of Personalised Learning Joel Johnston, Let Me Learn, USA	52
Promoting Global Citizenship Education Using a MOOC and Digital Storytelling Achilles Kameas, Hellenic Open University, Greece; Barbara Quarta, ALL DIGITAL, Belgium	54
The Future of AI in Education: Addressing Bias and Inclusion Gunay Kazimzade, TU Berlin, Germany	57
On Wicked Problems, Inspired Individuals and Managing Change: A Case Study in Higher Education Margaret Korosec, University of Derby Online Learning, UK	60
Online International Collaboration: Language Learning and Intercultural Skills Marianna Leikomaa, Tampere University of Applied Sciences, Finland	62
Amdocs' Lifelong Learning Corporate MOOC: Why, What and How Michal Erika Marom, Amdocs, Israel	63
ECLIPS: Uncovering Knowledge across the Curriculum Kelly Martens & Tessa de Block, University of Antwerp, Belgium	64
L&D as "Choice Architect": Organic Learning on Demand Irina Matthews & Irina Mikhailava, GÉANT, The Netherlands	65
Global Youth Action Alliance - Connecting Young People by Working on Seventeen Global Goals Ann Michaelsen, Sandvika High School, Norway	67

FIELD Methodology for Digital Business Education Victor Molero, ISDI Education, Spain	70
Online Course Peer Development: An Approach Towards Quality, Scalability and Student Success Carlos Morales, TCC Connect Campus-Tarrant County College System, USA	73
How to Design an Engaging Educational Game: Process, Challenges and Best Practices Ahmad Morsy, Imam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University, Saudi Arabia	75
A Small Revolution – How Frontex Develops and Delivers Innovative Training Magdalena Mos, Frontex, Poland	77
Supporting Great Workplace Performance Helena Nacinovic, Zalando SE, Germany	78
Creative vs. Expert: Diagnosing Diseases within “Equine Virtual Farm” Can Shape Students Brains Maaly Nassar, Freie Universität Berlin, Germany	79
How to Balance Design Thinking Methodologies with Evidence-informed Learning Design Principles Mirjam Neelen, Accenture, Ireland	81
C@N-DO: Professional Standards and Recognition as Catalysts for Teaching Excellence in Higher Education Ming Nie, Ale Armellini & Liane Robinson, University of Northampton, UK	83
Pedagogy before Technology Kari Nieminen, Teacher Training School, University of Tampere, Finland	85
X5GON Project on AI and OER Building a Netflix for Open Education Davor Orlic, Knowledge 4 All Foundation, UK	88
The Impact of Innovative Learning Spaces on Students’ Motivation and Outcomes Ebba Ossiannilsson, Swedish Association for Distance Education and ICDE, Sweden	88
The Vital Role of Digital and Adaptive Learning Platforms in a Flipped Learning Approach Dinçer Ozoran, MEF University, Turkey	92
How to Make your Life Easier: Letting Learning Objectives Dictate your Decision Making Indira Pallaro, IE Publishing, Spain	93

EFMD Global Network Online Course Certification System (EOCCS): the First International Quality Benchmark for Online Courses in Business and Management Keith Pond, Loughborough University and EFMD Global Network, UK	95
Designing a MOOC with a Chatbot Silvia Prieto Preboste, UDIMA, Spain	96
Developing Skills, Demonstrating Competence and Building eLearning Applications: Structuring Students' eLearning Design and Development Work Andrew Pyper & Mariana Lilley, University of Hertfordshire, UK	98
How to Modify a Serious Game for Medical Experts and Allow for Non-Experts to Use It Martin Riemer, University Medical Center Hamburg-Eppendorf (UKE), Germany	100
As Professions Change, How Can Curricula Keep Up? (Hint: Entrepreneurship) Claudia Roeschmann & Teresa Wingfield, Texas State University, USA; Alvaro Soto, Texas State University / Figure Eight, USA	102
Social Bots for Corporate Learning: Scenarios and Technologies that Make Learning More Effective Lars Satow, SAP, Germany	104
Online International Collaboration: Language Learning and Intercultural Skills Patricia Scherer Bassani, Feevale University, Brazil; Ilona Buchem, Beuth University of Applied Sciences Berlin, Germany; Jean-Marc Depierre, Montpellier SupAgro, France	105
Teaching the Future Tanja Schindler & Aileen Moeck, Zukunftsbauer / Teach the Future, Germany	107
Learning at Work: Self-directed Learning in Guided Workspaces Sabrina Schulze & Stephan Rothe, Deutsche Bahn AG - DB Training, Learning and Consulting, Germany	110
Why We Must Re-Evaluate What We Consider Success and Failure in Digital Education Michelle Selinger, EdTech Ventures, UK; Peter Hamilton, EdTech Ventures, Ireland	112
Flipped Classroom Design through Open Online Sources: Full Immersion Iuliia Shnai, Leonid Chechurin & Arnob Khan, Lappeenranta University of Technology, Finland	115
Shared Digital Courses Offering by Finnish Universities of Applied Sciences Sanna Simola, Turku University of Applied Sciences, Finland	116
Release the Potential of Social Learning at the Workplace Simon Skaarhoej, DanChurchAid, Denmark	117

From Commitment to Action - NDLA.NO Knut Inge Skifjeld & Cecilie Eftedal, Norwegian Digital Learning Arena (NDLA), Norway	118
Why We Need to Talk about Media Literacy Birgit Spies, Fresenius University of Applied Sciences, Hamburg, Germany	120
Free your Content: Producing Personalised Content and Learning Resources Gjergj Demiraj & Jennifer Steben, Gutenberg Technology, USA	122
AR/VR/Game-based Edutainment Applications and Real-Time Data Visualisation Technologies for Discovery Learning in the Industry and Distance Education Robert Strzebkowski & Tim Gehrman, Beuth University of Technology, Germany; Joshua Siegel, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA; Konstantinos Politopoulos, National Technical University of Athens, Greece; Christopher Christodoulides & Georgios Pappas, Open University of Cyprus, Cyprus	123
The Up and Downs in Transforming from Traditional to Agile Learning Formats Nicole Taylor, Swisscom Schweiz AG, Switzerland	125
Making Learning Culture Tangible. How Lernhacks Support 21st Century Learning Thomas Tillmann, ABC Tillmann - Consulting in Education, Germany; Meike Hülber, Lernhacks, Germany	127
The Significance of Collaborative Learning for cMOOCs - and Factors Affecting It Päivi Timonen, Humak University of Applied Sciences, Finland; Markus Söderlund, All Our Children, Finland, Sanna Ruhahti, Häme University of Applied Sciences (HAMK) and currently working on her Ph.D. at the University of Lapland, Finland	129
Digital Gaps in One of the World's Most Digitalised Countries Katrine Utgård, Eddie Pedersen, Karoline Tellum-Djarraya & Eline Wigdel, Skills Norway, Norway	135
The Quantified Student Project Rens van der Vorst, Fontys University, The Netherlands	137
Digital Capabilities Now and in the World to Come (Join for Cross-Sector Conversations) Tunde Varga-Atkins, Centre for Innovation in Education, University of Liverpool, UK	138
The Power of Interactive Video Mark Visser, HiHaHo - Icademy BV, The Netherlands	140
Learning Analytics - Nightmare or Beautiful Dream? Albert Vlaardingerbroek, Noorderpoort, The Netherlands	141
Life-long Learning in Learning Communities Marsha Wagner, Topsector Energy, The Netherlands	142

Engineering Education and the Digital Transformation -
How Should Study Programmes Develop? 145
Jonas Wernz, VDI German Association of German Engineers, Germany

How to Easily Create and Use Videos for Teaching and Learning 146
Anja Wipper & Peer-Olaf Kalis, TU Berlin, Zentraleinrichtung Wissenschaftliche Weiterbildung und
Kooperation, Germany